

Explain what you do to keep your sprint on schedule

- Regular standups and scrum meetings.
- Talking to each other discord
- Help each other in our other courses
- Keeping each other motivated.
- Reminding each other of our deadlines
- Diving our tasks into subtasks and setting mini-deadlines

Explain (using your diagram) what went wrong and what did you learn from it.

- Starting on tasks that depended on others without completing the root tasks.
- Being unclear with our user stories, not defining subtasks and stories being too ambitious.
- Not using Jira effectively to track our stories and not committing our code regularly
